

Remember: We use am only with I.

We use is with things and people when they are in the singular (only one).

We use are with you and things and people in the plural (more than one).

Let's use grammar

A. Use is, are or am in the blanks below.

1. There are two policemen waiting outside the bank.
2. Mr X is a well-known burglar.
3. Mr X and Miss Z are waiting to rob the bank.
4. I am glad they were caught.
5. Sniffer is glad too.

B. Here is one part of a telephone conversation. Frame the question that is being asked before each answer.

1. Is this the police station?

Yes, this is the police station.

2. Is Captain Smart here now?

No, Captain Smart is not here now.

3. Is Captain Smart a woman?

Yes, Captain Smart is a woman.

4. Are Captain Smart and Sniffer together?

Yes, Captain Smart and Sniffer are together.

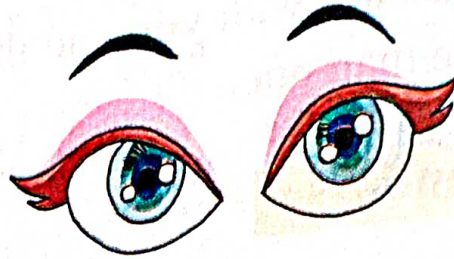

5. Are they coming back soon?

Yes, they are coming back soon.

Let's enrich our word-store

Read these words aloud.

two	to
there	their
eye	I
read (past tense)	red

You must have noticed that the words in each pair sound the same, but they are two different words with different spellings.

A. Fill in the blanks with suitable words taken from the list in the box above.

1. These are many children playing in the park.
2. These schools are closed for three weeks.
3. VEENA: Is Miss eyes s threw ice cream in Miss Z's
4. The children took two bottles of jam
5. Last week, John gave my read storybook to Mary. She
- read it on Sunday and returned it to him on Monday

B. Complete the phrases and match them with the pictures.

1. a bundle of s t i c k s
2. a bundle of c l a t h e s
3. a bag of t e a l s
4. a bag of m e n y a
5. a jar of h a n e y
6. a jar of p i c t i e

