

A word to parents

Children have inborn talents and creative energies in abundance. They learn on their own from their surroundings and experiences. Only a system where learning process assimilates natural growth pattern and development stages of children will bring out the best in them. Have faith in the new curriculum which enables your child to acquire sufficient knowledge to fit in easier to higher classes without being burdened by studies. School & studies becomes an enjoyable experience for them.

Evaluation

Evaluation is based on periodic assessment during the class work and is not only examination based. Each child is unique and has its own pace of natural development. At this tender age, they require a lot of encouragement and appreciation. Let us motivate them with lots and lots of encouragement and appreciation.
