Class 8 HTML Exercise Answers

A. Fill in the blanks

1. A list is the most attractive way of demonstrating information in a precise manner.

2. An unordered list indents each item in the list and includes a bullet against each item.

3. The border-spacing property is applied to define the distance between the borders of the adjoining cells in a table.

4. The reversed attribute of <ol> tags puts the list in the decreasing order.

5. A description list comprises a term followed by its definition.

B. Write 'T' for True and 'F' for False

1. F - An Ordered list automatically begins with the number 0.

2. T - The List-style-type property defines the bullet style as the type of list item marker.

3. F - The <tr> tag must always exist inside the row tag <td>.

4. T - The tag <dt> is applied to specify the terms or names.

5. F - The default value of empty-cells property is not hide.

C. Tick the correct option

1. Unordered lists is also called bulleted list. [Correct: a. bulleted]

2. By default, ordered list begins with 1. [Correct: b. 1]

3. With list-style-position property, you can define the position of the list-item markers. [Correct: a. list-style-position]

4. In description list, <dl> tag enables in explaining each term or name. [Correct: a. <dl>]

5. Caption-side property enables in defining the placement of a table caption. [Correct: c. Caption-side]
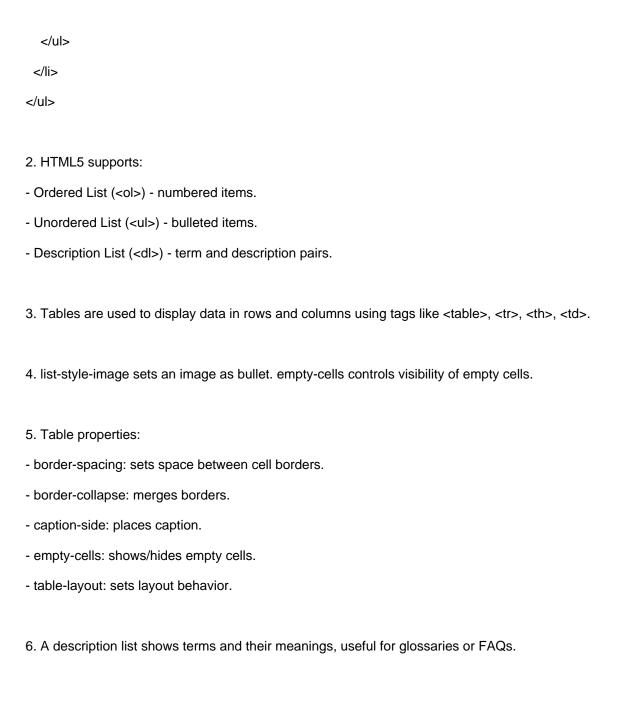

D. Answer the following questions

1. Nested List is a list inside another list. It can be ordered or unordered.

Example:

```
<ul>
  <li>Fruits
    <ul>
      <li>Apple</li>
      <li>Mango</li>
```

Class 8 HTML Exercise Answers

2. HTML5 supports:

- Ordered List (<ol>) - numbered items.

- Unordered List (<ul>) - bulleted items.

- Description List (<dl>) - term and description pairs.

3. Tables are used to display data in rows and columns using tags like <table>, <tr>, <th>, <td>.

4. list-style-image sets an image as bullet. empty-cells controls visibility of empty cells.

5. Table properties:

- border-spacing: sets space between cell borders.

- border-collapse: merges borders.

- caption-side: places caption.

- empty-cells: shows/hides empty cells.

- table-layout: sets layout behavior.

6. A description list shows terms and their meanings, useful for glossaries or FAQs.

E. Application-based questions

1. Sanjay should use the border-collapse property.

2. Monika should use list-style-image property.

3. Gagan should use <ol> and <li> tags to create a numbered list.