

Dialogue Writing

- ◆ A Dialogue means a conversation between two or more people.
- In fiction, dialogue is verbal exchange of ~~to~~ ~~or~~ two or more characters. If only a person talks then it is monologue.
- Dialogue's are fictive tool of communication. The communication may be formal or informal depending on the following.
Example :- Dialogue between a shopkeeper and a customer
- The customer realises that the shopkeeper is being unfair to him. Complete the dialogue between the two in which the customer makes the shopkeeper realize his mistake.

Customer : What is the rate of Kajju Bhurji

Shopkeeper : RS 600 per kg. Sir

Customer : Pack a half kg for me.

Shopkeeper : In a minute Sir.

Customer : But you have weighed less than a kg

Shopkeeper : Don't worry sir, you will have less weight to carry.

Customer : Oh! Thank you for ~~that~~ a good piece of advice.

Shopkeeper : Well, I'm here to do good to my customer Sir.

Customer : Here's your money.

Shopkeeper : But it's less money sir.

Customer : Don't worry you will have to count less money.

Shopkeeper : But that's not fair.

Customer : I'm sorry.

Example :- 2] Complete the dialogue by filling up appropriate options those given.

1] Son : Why do we keep our plant pots in the sun.

Mother : The plants ~~may~~ make their food with the help of sunlight.

Son : How interesting!

Mother : This process is called photosynthesis.

Son : How can the sun absorb the sunlight?

Mother : They do this with the help of chlorophyll.

Options

- a) 1] Why had they kept their
2] Why they kept there
3] Why do kept there
4] Why did they kept their

- b) 1] That make the plant
2] That makes the plant
3] That the plants make
4] That the plants makes.

- c) 1] That should be interesting.
2] That was interesting.
3] That is interesting.
4] That will be interesting.

- d) 1] That process was called
2] This process is called
3] That process will be called
4] That process should we called.

- e) 1] How will be the plants
2] How the plants could the plants
3] How can the plant

(4)

Date _____
Page 22

4] How the plants could.

- Q] 1] They will be doing so
2] They do so
3] They did so
4] They had done so.

Paragraph

The son asked his mother why had they kept their plant pots in the sun. The mother replied that the plants make their food with the help of sunlight. The son exclaimed with surprise. That was interesting. The mother told the son that process was called photosynthesis. The son asked how the plants could absorb sunlight. The mother replied that they did so with the help of chlorophyll.

Example 3 :-

Rekha: Which colour do you like the most?
Sonal: I like yellow colour.
Rekha: What is the reason of your choice?

Sonal : The yellow colour is the symbol of intelligence

Rekha : What is the significance of white colour?

Sonal : White colour represents peace.

OPTION

a) 1) Which colour she had licked?

2) Which colour she like

3) Which colour she likes

4) Which colour would she like

b) 1) If she would like

2) That she will like

3) That she liked

4) That she had liked.

c) 1) ~~of her choice was~~

2) is of her choice

3) was of her choice

4) of her choice is

d) 1) ~~of her choice was~~ Is being a symbol

2) Is Had been a symbol

3) Is a symbol

6

Date

Page

24

- 4] was a symbol.
- e] 1] What had been the significance.
2] What was the significance
3] What the significance
4] What is the significance
- f] 1] White colour represented
2] White colour will represent
3] White colour would represent
4] White colour had represents

Paragraph

Rekha asked Sonal which colour likes the most. Sonal replied that she liked yellow colour very much. Rekha asked what the reason of her choice was. Sonal replied that yellow colour was a symbol of intelligence. Rekha asked what was the significance of white colour was. Sonal replied that white colour represented peace.

X ~ X ~ X