

Framing Questions

Frame a question by using the verb in its base form and by adding different forms of the verb to do before the subject.

Unscramble the words and write the questions correctly. One has been done for you.

- | | | |
|---------------------------|--------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. like you do reading | 2. she like does reading | 3. write you did story your |
| 4. correctly choose I did | 5. they backup do have a | 6. business do father does your |

- | | |
|------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. Do you like reading? | 2. Does she like reading? |
| 3. Did you write your story? | 4. Did I choose correctly? |
| 5. Do they have a backup? | 6. Does your father do business? |

Add the verb does for a singular subject.

Add the verb do for a plural subject and for pronouns I and you.

Using the verbs do or does, rewrite the following statements as questions.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Meeta and Varun go for a walk. | Do Meeta & Varun go for a walk? |
| 2. Rupal walks to school by herself. | Does Rupal walk to school by herself? |
| 3. You have a good rapport with friends. | Do you have a good rapport with friends? |
| 4. She completes her homework in school. | Does she complete her homework in school? |

Use the verb did with singular and plural subjects to form past tense.

Rewrite the statements as questions using the verb did.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Julie jumped over the wall. | Did Julie jump over the wall? |
| 2. He enjoyed imitating people. | Did he enjoy imitating people? |
| 3. Mitali and Varsha ran faster than others. | Did Mitali & Varsha run faster than others? |
| 4. You understood this concept. | Did you understand this concept? |

Use the verb is with a singular subject; are with a plural subject and the pronoun you.

For the singular pronoun I, add the verb am. The form of the main verb remains the same.

Rewrite the statements as questions using the verbs is, are, or am.

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------------|
| 1. Minal is a corporate lawyer. | Is Minal a corporate lawyer? |
| 2. Her sisters are working as managers. | Are her sisters working as managers? |
| 3. Ankur and Manoj are going for a trek. | Are Ankur & Manoj going for a trek? |
| 4. You are quite occupied. | Are you quite occupied? |
| 5. I am going to the market. | Am I going to the market? |