At night, when all is still,
The forest's sentinel Glides silently across the hill
And perches in an old pine tree,
A friendly presence his!
No harm can come from night bird on the prow.
His cry is mellow, Much softer than a peacock's call.
Why then this fear of owls Calling in the night?
If men must speak, Then owls must hoot
They have the right.
On me it casts no spell:

"The night is good- all's well, all's well."
